Once the system has 'caught up', individuals leaving the military with entitlement to immediate benefits will make their election towards the end of their service. Those leaving without entitlement to immediate benefits will make their election just prior to their preserved/deferred pension coming into payment

The 4 Feb announcement was the start of a protracted process. The DCU option will allow individuals to make an informed decision based on known and actual pension benefits. Public Sector Pension Schemes require to implement the DCU by October 2023.

After 1 Apr 22 the discrimination will have ceased as everyone will be treated the same from this point onwards.

Eligible members who have already left the Armed Forces with a pension in payment or who retire from the military prior to being able to make their election for the remedy period will be contacted after the implementation date (Oct 23) and provided with details of their election choice.

Members need do nothing until they are contacted by MoD/Veterans UK

Dependent on some complex policy issues being finalised, it is anticipated that the revised calculator will be rolled out early in 2022 (ref DBS Quarterly Digest Nov 21).

Once Members receive individual correspondence from MoD / Veterans UK the FPS will be able to provide guidance to assist your decision making Prospective remedy prevents further accrual in legacy pension schemes. All personnel who remain in service from 1 April 2022 do so as members of Armed Forces Pension Scheme 2015.

Retrospective remedy will see all Armed Forces personnel affected by McCloud roll back to their 'old' pension scheme for the remedy period 1 Apr 15 – 31 Mar 22 as if they had never moved to Armed Forces Pension Scheme 2015.

'Complicating factors' include: Annual Allowance and Lifetime Allowance charges and calculations; AVCs/Additional Pension; Pension Sharing Orders; Abatement; Death in Service or in Retirement; Medical Discharge. The impacts these and other factors have on the value of the pension benefits you will receive can only be determined once MoD / Veterans (UK) have completed the necessary administrative work and informed you of their calculations.
